Further playing satisfaction will be realized through the years by becoming thoroughly acquainted with its features. YOUR FENDER ACOUSTIC

Your new Fender Acoustic Guitar is one of the finest instruments of its kind. This guitar has been given the most careful attention possible in its manufacture. By giving it proper care, its appearance and performance will give you endless hours of enjoyment.

In order to keep your instrument in its present condition, we offer a few suggestions. Never subject the guitar to quick changes in temperature or humidity. Wood, by its nature, regardless of type or quality, cannot be guaranteed against cracking. When not in use for extended periods, store your instrument with strings loosened in a case and in a place of moderate temperature and humidity. In cases of low humidity we suggest keeping a wrapped potato or carrot in the case with the instrument.

Your Fender Acoustic should be cleaned at regular intervals. The surface of the instruments are plastic coated for long-lasting beauty and protection: therefore, no polish should be used that is harmful to the finish.
