

Product Disclaimer for Instrument Finish Reactions

This product has been tested with many finishes and no problems have been found. Nonetheless, please exercise caution when placing vintage instruments or instruments with nitrocellulose finishes on this stand, as sweat and other environmental contaminants can produce chemical reactions between the finish and stand components that can be neither predicted nor tested.